

HOLD FINAL RITES OVER CARDINAL GIBBONS

Church Dignitaries Attend Impressive Funeral Services.

All Activities Halt At Hour Of Funeral

Ceremonies Centuries Old Are Carried Out

(By Associated Press)

Baltimore, March 31.—With all the splendor of a ceremony centuries old, the Roman Catholic church today laid to rest one of its oldest and most faithful servants, James Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore, the second American to be elevated to the cardinalate.

Archbishop John Bonzano, apostolic delegate at Washington, celebrated a pontifical requiem mass in the Cathedral of the Blessed Virgin Mary, with seminarians chanting Gregorian music never before heard outside the Sistine Chapel in Rome during the funeral of a pope. Archbishop John J. Glennon, of St. Louis, delivered the funeral sermon. During his eulogy of the dead, there remained scarcely a dry eye among his hearers, whose memories went back to the kindly, gentle old man who led with power of spirit as well as power of mind.

The service was like a scene from the Middle Ages, like an altar pier come to life. Numberless priests in a seemingly endless procession filed into the church; and in their stately robes of the varied colors of their orders, moved forward to the catafalque on which rested the late Cardinal in his archbishop's vestments of purple.

In a few moments, the body of the church was filled with its army of clergy, and the atmosphere of the twentieth century was dispelled. There was a harmony of color and sound as the light of the candles around the bier fell on the brilliant ceremonial robes of the priests and the auditorium echoed to the measured rhythm of chanted prayers.

The greatest assemblage of church dignitaries ever massed on this continent were gathered for the funeral. They came from the East and the West, from the North and the South, and from the Dominions across the border, to mourn the prelate, the American, the man.

Lay delegates representing Catholic organizations, diplomatic Washington and Americans differing in creed, but united in their love for the dead churchman, were here.

By nine o'clock an hour before the time set for the ceremony, streets surrounding the cathedral were so crowded with clergy and laity that not a square inch of pavement could be seen.

At ten o'clock, the whole city, by gubernatorial and mayoral proclamations were urged to drop every activity for a minute in respect to a man it had numbered among its most distinguished citizens.

Every motor, every street car, every wagon was directed to stop in its tracks when the clocks of the city tolled ten.

Today really held two ceremonies. One was the great church assemblage at mass, the Church bestowing her honor on one who had long served her faithfully. The other was the simple burial service in the crypt of white marble under the cathedral sanctuary, the relatives and closest friends taking final leave of one very dear to them.

Daring Acts of Firemen During Blaze.

(By Associated Press)

New York, March 31.—Firemen fought among the clouds for more than an hour early today before subduing a dangerous blaze on the 31st floor of the towering Equitable building in the heart of the down-town skyscraper district.

It was one of the highest fires the firemen have ever been called upon to fight.

The blaze started in a broker's office and clouds of smoke poured through the upper stories and elevator shafts of the massive structure.

The fire was under control before the building's 15,000 business inhabitants arrived.

Firemen crawled along narrow window ledges at dizzy heights above narrow streets in order to smash windows and push through lines of hose. Thousands of gallons of water poured down elevator shafts and into the corridors.

According to the police, the man described how he attack one of the teachers while the other ran away. Later he is said to have told police the other teacher returned and struck over the head with a stick.

He exhibited a scar on his head, but police are inclined to believe it is several years old. An analysis of stains on the man's coat is being made by a chemist.

During several hours questioning by Captain Matowitz the man repeated his story but at times talked incoherently of details which he had given precisely a short time previously.

KRAMER TELLS WHY IT IS HARD TO ENFORCE LAW

(By Associated Press)

Washington March 31.—Difficulties in enforcing national prohibition include hostile public sentiment, lack of co-operation by the states bootlegging on the borders and issuance of too many dealers permits, according to John F. Kramer federal prohibition commissioner.

What he termed as his "honest views" were given by Mr. Kramer in a letter to Senator Capper of Kansas. Mr. Kramer said that the Volstead law itself was sound. Among recommendations to tighten up enforcement were:

Removal of whisky to a few large and well guarded warehouses; increase of prohibition agents on the borders and enactment of prohibition codes by all the states.

Mr. Willson will soon celebrate his 83rd birthday. He was born on April 14, 1838.

A small frame house that stood on the corner of Main and Market streets where the Cheery Hotel is now located, was his birthplace.

The Willson family lived there until 1854 when it was decided to make an improvement and the old frame was superseded by a "modern" residence of unusual magnitude and which is known by people now-a-days as the Cherry Flats. They remained there until 1874.

It was in the spring of 1861 that Mr. Willson heard the call to arms when President Abraham Lincoln sent an appeal for 75,000 volunteers for three months "to crush the uprising." He served with 22nd Ohio.
At the end of the three months the strenuousness of the task that confronted the Union was just making itself clear and Mr. Willson re-enlisted, this time with the 60th Ohio.

Mr. Willson has favored The Herald and Washington citizens by consenting to give a series of interviews in which some of the interesting chronicles of early Washington Court House will be rendered. These articles will appear from time to time.

Early School Days
When Mr. Willson went to school there was nothing for the accommodation of the pupils such as exists today. All schools were called "select schools" because they were not kept up by taxation, but by the subscriptions of the parents.

His first recollection of being in the school room, he says, was at the age of five years in a brick dwelling house on Market street where the Stitt-Todhunter offices are located.

When it was time for school to begin in the fall, explains Mr. Willson, the person who was to be the instructor, usually a man, called on all the homes in the neighborhood and inquired if there were any children of school age. If there were he stated his terms which were usually accepted if the family was able to afford "schooling" for its children.

Another school came into use about this time and its teacher was John M.
Bell, who was afterwards to discard the raiment of the pedagogue, and in the uniform of a captain in the Union Army win glory that makes his name stand yet today. Other teachers remembered by Mr. Willson are Mr. Putman, Jesse Worthington and Mrs.

Truesdall.

There were a great many "little boys" enrolled in the school. Some of those that Mr. Willson remembers are: Ben Wendell, Baldwin Millikan, John Millikan, Bill Millikan, Clayte
Lanum, Bob Robinson and Henry Dickey.

Town was Small Washington Court House when Mr. Willson was being taught the "rule of three" had not reached the healthy proportions which make it rank as an enterprising city today.
About the time that the first real school building was built on the corner of Market and Hinde street, on the spot now termed the post office lot there was an endless expanse of green pasture right close to town.

Temple street and Paint street had just been opened up and the roadway was formed by a path cut through the new tree stumps. It was the same on the other side of town and heavy forests bordered Paint creek in the Sunnyside districts.

Mr. Willson states that circuses came to town in those days, in greater number than they have in recent years, and that they always showed in the lots between Temple and Paint street, between the Hinde and Main street sections.

MAY RAISE FUND TO FIX BRIDGE

Citizens in Sunnyside and the southern section of the county are contemplating raising a fund by subscription to make an improvement at the South Main street bridge unless the council or the commissioners takes action looking to improving conditions.

An inconvenience to traffic that is constantly growing worse is a sheer drop of almost eight inches at the south end of the bridge. This has been caused by the roadway sinking back of the pier. The drop-off is like a step and auto drivers not familiar with the depression are running risks of damaging their cars.

It is understood that the citizens of the neighborhood have been asking relief for more than a year and that having received no results they are seriously contemplating doing it themselves.

Passengers in automobiles striking the drop-off without warning have been thrown against the top of the cars violently in several instances. It has long been a nuisance and an aggravation to all those using the street, the citizens insist in their demands for an improvement.

ACCUSED MAN FACES COURT ON STRETCHER

Sid Valentine and George Martin Sentenced to One to Seven Years in Pen.

Court Makes Short Work of Two Chicken Stealing Cases Out of Ordinary.

Within thirty minutes from the time they were indicted for stealing chickens, Sid Valentine, and George Martin, both white and both claiming Columbus as their home, were taken before Judge C. A. Reid for sentence, and both were given one to seven years in the Ohio Penitentiary on grand larceny charges.

The unusual spectacle of a prisoner being carried into court for sentence greeted the score of spectators who had waited to see the men sentenced. Sid Valentine, unable to walk because of injuries sustained when his car load of stolen chickens went over an embankment, and with his jaws in a cast so that talking was exceedingly difficult and painful, was carried from the jail to the common pleas court room and the cot set on the floor in front of the judge's bench. He remained silent until directly addressed by the court. A defiant light gleamed in his eye, and a half dozen words constituted his utterances in the presence of the court.

Valentine was accompanied by his companion in crime, George Martin, who sat on a chair near the cot. Judge Reid expressed his reluctance in passing sentence upon the man on the cot, and in a brief lecture expressed the hope that Valentine's misfortunes be a profitable lesson to him when he is given his freedom from the big state prison. Valentine had nothing to say as to why he should not be sentenced, and asked no mercy.

Martin also waived the usual time allowed for inspection of indictments, and said he was ready for sentence. He was given a term similar to that of Valentine, not however, until he had told the court a pitiful story of stealing chickens in order to obtain money for an operation necessary to save his wife, who resides at 383 S. Hunter street, Columbus, he was informed by the court that public aid was always available in such cases.

The quick action in the cases was deemed advisable because of Valentine's condition, and he was taken to the penitentiary Thursday where he will receive proper attention in the prison hospital until he is able to work.

Both men were taken to Columbus Thursday.

The Lenin-Trotsky regime is again reported in desperate straits, but that seems to be its normal condition.

PITTSBURGERS TO VISIT CITY ON TRADE TOUR

Washington C. H. will be an important stop for the special train bearing the twentieth annual Golden Rule excursion of Pittsburgh business men who will make a tour of southern Ohio and West Virginia May 10-13.

In the party are 150 of the leading manufacturers, importers, bankers and jobbers, as well as representatives of educational institutions, the city government and professional men of Pittsburgh, who are travelling under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. The train will arrive Wednesday, May 11, at 10:15 a. m., central standard time, via B. & O., remaining one hour, and will depart at 11:15 a. m. the B. & O. for Chillicothe.

In Washington it is planned to hold a series of informal business conferences between the business men of this community and those from Pittsburgh. These are declared to be of mutual interest to the civic, industrial and mercantile interests of the two cities. Questions involving transportation, credits, materials, labor conditions, good roads and the stabilization of markets, it is pointed out, necessitate first hand study and candid discussion.

Members of the Pittsburg trade extension believe that a grasp of the situation cannot be obtained by remaining in an office at the home or by individual theorizing. Meeting the out of town business men face to face, they say, is bound to result in a mutual understanding, and, eventually, better business for all concerned.

H. W. Neely, Chairman

"The goldenrule in business getting and business building will be the watch word on the excursion," said Harry W. Neely, chairman of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce committee. "Ours is not an invasion of business competitors. We are not out selling goods and neither is it a junket. We seek to promote reciprocal relations in the great industrial zone within a radius of 150 miles of Pittsburgh which is one vast community of mutual interests. The highest achievement of one depends upon the success of all."

The Swiss insurance companies have announced that fixing the premiums on policies of women's lives they will take into consideration the women's wearing apparel. The shorter the skirt or lower the décolletée, the higher the insurance rate will be.

The Swiss companies justify this action on the ground of a great increase of illness and disease among their women clients which they claim is due to the wearing of short skirts and low-necked dresses.

MEMORIUM

Cletus Eugene Hartman, second son of John and Ella Hartman, was born in Washington Court House, Ohio, May 4, 1890. He died March 25, 1921, at home, after an illness of two short weeks, at the early age of 30 years, 10 months, 21 days. He attended the Washington school, and while he was always a very quiet lad he made many friends who will miss him. In the year, 1904, he accepted a position with the P. Hagerty Shoe Company. He learned to love his work, and later became one of their most proficient workers. He entered the service May 27, 1915, and while stationed at Fort Niagara, Youngstown, New York, he contracted influenza from which he never fully recovered. His life was one of rare beauty and thoughtfulness of others. He was a most devoted and obedient son, and a loving brother. When the evening shadows are falling,

And we are sitting alone
In our hearts there comes a longing
Oh! dear son and brother
Could we see you again
We think of you in silence,
No yes can see us weep.
But many a silent tear is shed,
When others are asleep.
A loving son and brother, true and kind,
No one on earth like you we'll find.
For every one he did his best
May God grant him eternal rest.

A Card of Thanks

It is with sincere gratitude and appreciation that we desire to thank our many friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy extended during the illness and death of our son and brother. Especially do we thank Rev. Father Fogarty, Dr. Blakeley and Albert McCoy for their thoughtfulness.

THEY DRAW LOTS FOR BIG ESTATE

HAMILTON, BERMUDA. (By Mail)—Richard Darrell won "Norwood," a fine residence property on the shore of Hamilton harbor and one of the show places of Bermuda, by drawing lots recently with two other persons in compliance with an unusual will of his uncle.

Henry Darrell, former owner of this estate, could not decide which of his three nephews he would make his heir, so he stated in his will that they should throw dice and let fate decide the matter. But in the interval, his sister, Miss Harriett, was to retain a life interest and continue her residence at "Norwood."

Miss Darrell died in January last and arrangements were then made to carry out the terms of the bequest. It was thought best, however, to modify the plan to the extent of substituting slips of paper which were shuffled in a box, for the dice throwing. This was consented to by all parties and the lucky nephew is now possessed of the ancestral estate.

Lots of things children would never think of doing if their parents did not forbid.

Bolin's Appointment

When he appointed Stuart R. Bolin as special counsel to represent the government, in the prosecution of the men accused of committing the million dollar robber of the Toledo postoffice, Attorney General Daugherty did a handsome and board-minded thing. Mr. Bolin is a Democrat and former United States District Attorney, an appointee of the Wilson administration and therefore a political opponent of Mr. Daugherty. The present Attorney General and Mr. Bolin have both been, for years, members of the Columbus bar and, consequently, each knows the other's qualifications.

Mr. Bolin, during his four years of service in prosecuting offenders against the laws of the United States, built up an enviable reputation as a lawyer. His record as the representative of the government was a splendid one, but he failed of reappointment because, in his refusal to shirk the performance of a plain duty, he incurred the enmity of the Democratic organization of Franklin county.

No complaint was ever urged, or could be, successfully against Mr. Bolin as a lawyer, and a representative of the government's interests.

Mr. Daugherty, like many others, has known of Mr. Bolin's qualifications, but the Attorney General is to be complimented for having the courage to disregard politics and to name as special counsel in the very important cases, a man who is, perhaps, better qualified, all things considered, to look after the government's interest, than any other man in Ohio.

Just Ordinary

Sometimes, to, those folks who have become accustomed to expecting big happenings in governmental affairs, during the last never to be forgotten half dozen years, the elaboration, by special writers, stationed at the national capital, on the small commonplace things, occurring nowadays, seems a little tiresome. There seems to be a very evident effort to make something—a great deal in fact—out of very ordinary occurrences.

Consequently we are a little disappointed that there is such a lack of big news and sensational articles coming out of the national capital.

As a matter of fact, we have had quite enough of turbulent times, unusual occurrences and sensational happenings, and the biggest, the best, the most comforting and assuring news that can come out of the national capital is just the kind that is coming out now about just ordinary commonplace happenings.

The present administration is striving for quiet, to get back to a prosaic grind, so to speak, and it is not a bad idea. We have all been on high tension for a long time, and it is well for the administration to strive to avoid the sensational. It is well for us to quit demanding and expecting the sensational and unusual, to take dingy, humdrum, if you please, grind at the seat of government.

Nothing Doing

Our government has very properly and very wisely notified the Soviet regime that resumption of trade between Russia and the United States could not be considered until fundamental changes had been made in the economic system underlying the Soviet plans. The safety of life, the security of property and the observance of contractual obligations must be guaranteed.

Thus decisively has the American government, representing the American people disposed, finally, of the disquieting suggestion that, for a few paltry dollars, we enter into business dealings with an organization of murderers, assassins and anarchists, who have already destroyed one great nation and are seeking to undermine the foundations of organized society.

Any other disposition of the Soviet appeal would have been abhorrent to the people of America and dangerous, in the extreme, to the world.

The dishonest Soviet leaders sought by an appeal to narrow partisanship and an abuse of the preceding administration, to mislead the present officials, but broad Americanism triumphed and the danger, some feared, has passed.

LEADERS STILL AT SEA ON TAX REVISION PLANS

Excess Profits Tax Likely To Go—Tax On Small Incomes To Stand

Wide Divergencies of Opinion On Direct Sales Tax

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1921)

Washington, March 31.—What is said here aims to be a summary of impressions received from a considerable number of the men who will have a part in rewriting the tax laws in the coming congress. It omits going into the great mass of dispute about the merit or expediency of proposed changes and confines itself to the effort to describe what may be termed the collective state of mind of these men.

The first impression is that the minds of the leaders are much less crystallized than might be expected. It frequently occurs that you will ask a member of the Finance Committee of the Senate or of the Ways and Means Committee of the House how he feels about reducing the income tax or about adopting the direct sales tax, and he will reply in terms that indicate that he is still feeling his way and has hardly begun yet even to acquire the information upon which his judgment will later be formed.

There is an attitude of waiting not only for the information and facts which will be developed at the hearings soon to begin; there is also an attitude of waiting to learn the state of feeling of the country. On this point the Congressmen and Senators who are now at their homes are expected to report as soon as they return for the opening of the new session.

There is a preponderance of feeling on the part of those leaders that the excess profits tax should be abolished. The reason for this is that it is practically agreed that this form of tax has now ceased to be a revenue producer. The excess profits tax was effective and yielded a large income during the period of inflation. The excess profits tax, so-called, consisted less of profits in the true sense than of the rapid expansion in the price-valuation of materials due to war-time inflation. During the present and coming period of depression the rule will work the other way and nobody expects that the excess profits tax will produce any considerable amount of revenue during the present year or in the near future.

Disposition to Repeal Tax

The disposition of the leaders to repeal this tax is general. The exceptions are those who think it would be bad politics to repeal it. The theory is that repealing the excess profits tax looks to much like letting the large corporations off. The politicians who take this view say it would be better to let it stand, even though it produces little or no revenue; or else to reduce the tax, rather than abolish it entirely.

As to the income taxes, nearly all the leaders agree that the very rich people of the country who are taxed at present from 40 to 70 per cent of their income are seeking refuge by taking their money out of ordinary investments and putting into Government, State or municipal bonds which are exempt from taxation. This being so, it is argued that it will be wiser to remove this temptation by lowering the taxes on very large incomes to a maximum of not over 40 per cent.

The leaders agree that to the portion of the public which does not understand economics this would have the appearance of making things easier for the rich, without doing anything to help people of smaller incomes. But in spite of this unfortunate appearance, from a political point of view, it is practically certain it will be done.

As to the income tax on smaller incomes— incomes of from $4,000 to $30,000 a year—there is a marked difference of opinion among the leaders. Some concede that the present income taxes, even on comparatively small incomes, are intolerable and believe that they should be drastically reduced. On the other hand, some very important leaders believe that the government is so much in need of money that it will not be possible to make any change in the present taxes on incomes from $4,000 to $30,000. The net impression is that on these smaller incomes there is little likelihood of reduction.

The Direct Sales Tax

What can be done about reducing the income taxes depends largely, of course, on what other form of tax ation can be found as a substitute for them. The one new form of taxation that is universally discussed is the "direct sales" tax, occasionally known as the "turn-over" tax. This project proposes a tax of a fixed percentage on everything that is bought or sold.

BY HEROIC AND STRENUOUS WORK MR. FAN SECURES THE PRECIOUS TICKETS

The proposal as a whole cannot be readily discussed in a small space because it takes so many forms. In its broadest form it would be a universal direct tax of one per cent on everything—goods sold by retail stores, by wholesalers, by manufacturers, salaries, wages, the sale of land, houses, shares of stock, bonds and everything. Some would make the rate not over one-half of one per cent others would exempt farm products and wages.

Without attempting to describe the variations of this proposal, it can be said that there is a difference of opinion among the leaders as to whether the idea of a sales tax in any form should be adopted at all. Senator Smoot of the Finance Committee and Chairman Fordney of the Ways and Means Committee are believed to be in favor of some of this direct sales tax. Some of the other equally important leaders are believed to be still dubious about it.

The least encouraging aspects of of these talks with those who will write the new tax law is their lack of authority or positiveness. They do not seem to approach the subject with confidence or courage. For example, it is discouraging to find a business man who has made a fortune in the automobile business saying frankly and boldly that rubber ought to bear a tax of fifteen cents a pound, and gasoline five cents a gallon; while the congressman and senator who is to make the tax shirks with timidity from such a proposal.

NEWEST IDEA FOR THE BRIDESMAID

This chiffon and lace frock has been suggested as a pretty model for the bridesmaids who will attend our brides of late spring and early summer. It is a simple model made of straight lines, the finest lace forming the only adornment necessary. A chiffon hat to match the chiffon of the frock is a charming accessory. This may be made in any of the pale shades which the bride may choose and the lace may be tinted to match or a cream shade may be used as here.

MINSTREL TROUPE FEASTED BY THE AMERICAN LEGION

Performers Perfect Permanent Organization Following Banquet

The minstrel performers who recently concluded a series of five performances under the auspices of the American Legion were the guests Wednesday evening at a delectable course banquet, tendered by way of appreciation by the Paul H. Hughey Post at Memorial Hall.

The personnel of the minstrel troupe, including members of the orchestra and staging staff, numbering more than thirty, were supplemented by a representation of between thirty and forty legion members not belonging to the troupe. The banqueters were seated at long tables, two of which were reserved for the honor guests.

Selections by the Whelpley Orchestra preceded the banquet and were warmly applauded. A pleasant hour followed the repast, during which Interlocutor Updyke, acting as toastmaster, called on various members of the troupe, who responded with songs, dances recitations and original stunts.

Before dispersing, the performers at the suggestion of Voice Director Haver, by unanimous rising vote decided to continue the troop as a social and musical organization to be conducted in connection with the American Legion. While plans were not perfected, it was decided that the club be conducted upon the lines of the Dutch Treat Club, and that it meet the last Wednesday evening of each month to banquet and carry out its musical programs.

A committee including C. S. Haver, Ralph Penn and Fred Jones were appointed to look after the social end of the project.

Another committee consisting of Maynard Craig, Adam Bernhard and M. W. Claggen, as active members, and C. S. Haver and James Whelpley as consulting members, were appointed to draw up plans for future musical activities to be submitted at the next meeting of the organization.

The banquet was in charge of Post Commander Charles Allen, assisted by the regular K. P. staff of the Legion. During the banquet a statement from Treasurer Passmore was read showing that the Legion had cleared more than $500 on its performances.

BIG SUCCESS AT CHERRY HILL

Never in the history of Cherry Hill has there been a more successful entertainment than the one of Wednesday evening—netting one hundred and fifty dollars for the school treasury.

A delightful program was presented by the six grades. The beginners under the direction of Mrs. Lulu Davis, were especially cunning in their songs and recitations.

Miss Ruth Brownell's first grade, and Miss Marie Bateman's second grade pupils did exceedingly well in their dialogues and songs. Worth special mention was the dialogue, "The Latest Styles in Hats," by the second grade.

The boys and girls of the fourth grade, Miss Bernice O'Brien teacher, also came in for their share of praise in the songs and dialogues.

A beautiful pantomime was posed by the third and fifth grade girls, Miss Margaret Stonerock, directing.

A Bob White song was effectively whistled by the third grade boys. Songs and a clever recitation were also given by Miss Stonerock's grades. Georgia Prue Chapman of the sixth grade very gracefully pantomimed "Rock of Ages," Sarah Lewis singing sweetly the solo accompaniment. Songs and poems concluded the sixth grade's part of the program.

Miss Corda McCafferty, principal, gave a very interesting lecture, explaining the lantern slides, "The British Isles." She added a personal touch to her explanation, giving entertaining account of her visit to the British Isles, when she toured Europe several years ago.

Ronald and Frances Hall, on the xylophone, drums and piano played splendidly through the evening. Condon Campbell assisting on the drums.

A number of donations were fully appreciated. The Sunlight Creameries donated half of the 12 gallons of ice cream; Mr. M. C. Myers, of the Millwood grocery, donated and made the coffee; the Mothers' Circle gave liberally of home made candy; and from the parents generous donations and personal help.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET ON 18TH

April 18th is the date set for the annual Father and Son's banquet under the auspices of the Boys' Department of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The Banquet Committee held a meeting Wednesday afternoon in which the date was set and preliminary plans were made.

Because of the size of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium it was decided that the ticket sale this year will be limited to 300.

A program which includes a speaker from Toledo, a quartet led by Maynard Craig and Jimmie Dice's Pepsters, is being arranged.

The Banquet Committee is headed by J. Earl McLean chairman; J. E. Sheppard, Ed Fite, M. E. Hitchcock, J. M. Willis, Earl Barnett, Walter Craig and V. P. Marquis.

ATTORNEYS WILL SUBMIT BRIEFS IN RATE CASES

Following two days' hearing in the rate cases involving the price of gas and heat in this city, held before the State Utilities Commission in Columbus this week, the attorneys were instructed to submit briefs and this is to be done within the next thirty days.

The hearings occupied virtually all of Tuesday and Wednesday, and are independent of the electric rate controversy now in the U. S. District court.

The engineer employed by the city, Byron Gifford was present to submit statistics on behalf of the city for lower heat and gas rates.

Indications are that several weeks will elapse before the Commission decides the case. Meanwhile the gas and heat rates will remain unchanged.

ROTARIANS HERE PRESENT PLAN

Coming as the third club within the last three weeks to petition the organization of one of their kind in this city, a delegation representing the Rotary Club of Chillicothe appeared before the Dutch Treat Club at the Thursday lunch.

Four Rotarians were in the delegation. They were: A. R. Wolfe, Chillicothe postmaster, and president of the Rotary Club; B. C. Poston, president of the Chillicothe Chamber of Commerce; Harry G. Gunning, president of the Gunning Cigar Company; and Noble P. Kearns, furniture dealer.

Each representative spoke at some length before the Dutch Treat Club and presented each feature of the Rotary organization.

Preparations were made by the Dutch Treat Club to accept the invitation of the Kiwanis Club and pay the Columbus Kiwanians a visit next Wednesday. M. E. Hitchcock and Ed Fite were named a committee on arrangements by Chairman Hays Dill.

DEPARTMENT ASKS FOR BETTER CARE

Calling attention to the fact that shrubbery planted on Arbor Day is sometimes neglected the Department of Agriculture of Ohio State University is sending instructions to school officials for the care of trees and shrubs.

This year, more than ever before, Arbor Day will be observed by the planting of shrubbery. In Fayette county schools programs are being prepared for the planting ceremonies. Proclamation sets the date for April 8th.

For the benefit of those who are not familiar with the care of young trees Professor R. B. Cruickshank has prepared a set of rules. They follow in part:

1. A circular area with a radius of about a yard should be spaded up about each tree.
2. Shrubby beds should also be spaded up and smoothed off as soon as the soil is workable.
3. It is advisable to keep the soil about young trees and in shrubby beds cultivated with rake or hoe during the summer months.
4. If cultivation is impossible or inconvenient, soil moisture may be conserved by mulching the trees and shrubs with several inches of old straw or hay or such other vegetable matter. This also smothers out weeds.
5. A more satisfactory growth will be obtained if the trees and shrubs are fertilized.

WEEK END SHOWS

Two good picture shows are at the Wonderland and the Colonial, the first theater presenting Tom Moore in "The Great Accident" and the second Lt. Ormer Locklear in "The Skywayman."

Ben Ames Williams never wrote a better story than "The Great Accident" and combined with the lively appeal of the popular star the photo play is a big success.

Tom Moore, a reckless irresponsible ne'er do well is nominated for mayor as a practical joke on his father. There is a beautiful girl, a political buzzard, a rousing town hall meeting and an inspiring climax.

This play shows for the last time Friday.
"The Skywayman", a drama of life and thrills above the clouds, holds over the week-end.

SECOND TUNNEL UNDER THE ALPS NEARS COMPLETION

Geneva, (By Mail)—The second tunnel under the Alps between Switzerland and Italy will be completed by the end of July, engineers say. Railroad traffic will be diverted through it immediately and repairs made in the first tunnel, opened 20 years ago. Both will be used sometime in 1922.

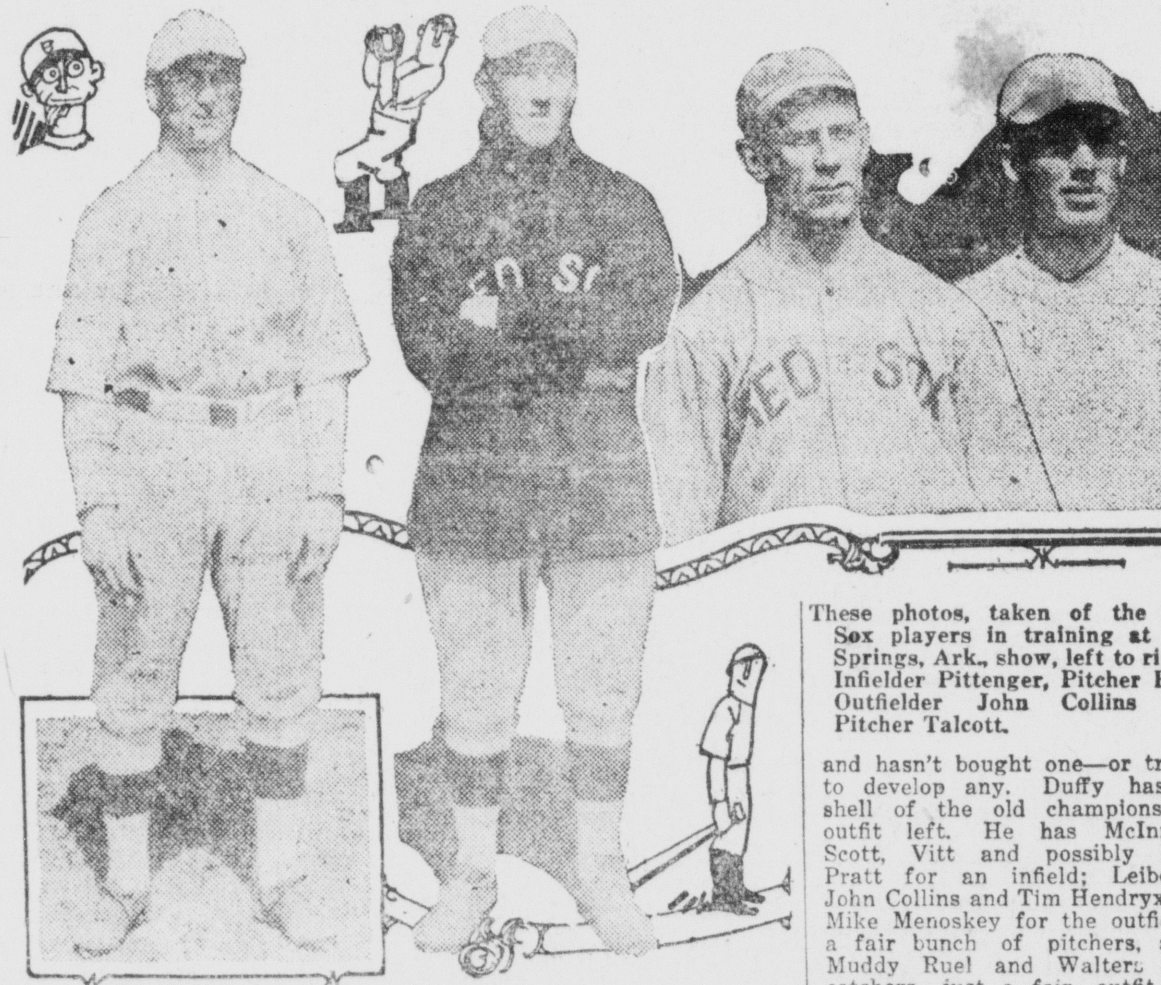

The first tunnel, 12 1/4 miles long, cost 2,940,000 pounds. The new bore will cost only about one-third of that amount. Construction was begun before the war but work was abandoned because the workmen were nearly all mobilized. Half-way through, subterranean boiling springs were uncovered and many workmen were killed.

It isn't considered good form to ride to the synagogue in a Ford car. Evidently Germany underestimates either her own resources or those of the Allies.

UNLESS DUFFY IS MIRACLE MAN RED SOX ARE DOOMED

Unless Hugh Duffy can pull a miracle man stunt with the battered, shattered, frazzed Red Sox that team is slated to flirt with the cellar in the coming American league race. Since Harry Frazee obtained the club he has spent all his time selling stars and hasn't bought one—or tried to develop any. Duffy has a shell of the old championship outfit left. He has McInnis, Scott, Vitt and possibly Del Pratt for an infield; Leibold, John Collins and Tim Hendryx or Mike Menoskey for the outfield, a fair bunch of pitchers, and Muddy Ruel and Walters for catchers—just a fair outfit to tackle the strong teams lined up against it. Among the promising rookies in training camp are Talcott, a pitcher and ex-Yale star; Pitcher Best and Infielder Pittenger.

Italy is the only nation shaped like a boot-leg; but America is the only nation that functions like one. The pay of teachers proves that it is much more profitable to get an education than to give one. Germany seems to think that her credit for losing the war offsets her debt for starting it.

PLACE BLAME ON BRITISH GOVERNMENT

Committee of 100 Makes Public Its Report

Alleged Conditions in Ireland Are Bared

(By Associated Press)
Washington, March 31.—Moral responsibility for the present disorders in Ireland is placed upon the British government by the Commission of the Committee of One Hundred investigating the Irish question in a 30,000-word report made public today and covering the examination of witnesses at public hearings held by the commission in Washington last November, December and January.

Declaring that the Commission was "under the disadvantage of lacking the official British side of the case" except as it was gathered from documents presented to it, the report declares that "the imperial British army in Ireland has been guilty of proved excesses, not incomparable in degree and kind with those alleged, by the Bryce report on Belgium atrocities, to have been committed by the imperial German army." The Bryce Commission, it is pointed out, was similarly handicapped.

Thirty-eight witnesses of alleged atrocities including 18 Irish, 18 American and two English citizens, testified before the commission. The commission admits that its report is ex parte in spite of its efforts to hear all sides. The testimony available, the reports says, gives the case therefore, almost wholly from the Irish republican or Sinn Fein viewpoint or "from sources not unsympathetic to the application of the principal of self-determination to Ireland." The Ulster Unionist viewpoint and that of the British authorities in Ireland, the report says, were not represented among the witnesses.

Summing up its conclusions after hearing all the testimony, the commission finds "that the Irish people are deprived of the protection of British law, to which they would be entitled as subjects of the British King. They are likewise deprived of the moral protection granted by international law, to which they would be entitled as belligerents. They are at the mercy of imperial British forces which, acting contrary both to all law and to standards of human conduct, have instituted in Ireland "a terror"

BIG GARAGE BURNS CAUSES MYSTERY

Simon Stuckey Loses Garage in Wednesday Evening Fire.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a big garage and coal shed at the Simon Stuckey residence on the Greenfield and Sabina pike about six o'clock Wednesday evening.

Two automobiles in the garage, a Ford and a Chevrolet, were saved by being pushed out.

The loss is estimated between $600 and $1,000, according to the owner. It was partly covered by insurance.

The manner in which the fire started cannot be determined. When discovered, the blaze had gained such headway that there was only time to save the contents.

BUGGY IS HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

When their buggy was struck by an automobile driven by Ellsworth Engle, son of Jesse Engle, on West Paint street, late Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Mereshon were thrown to the ground and both painfully bruised, although not seriously injured. Their buggy was damaged by the impact.

The impact occurred as Mr. Mereshon was in the act of turning into the drive way at his home, and being near the approaching machine driven by the Engle lad, there seemed no way to avoid the impact. The machine was brought under control as speedily as possible, bystanders stating that it was moving at a moderate rate of speed at the time.

SPRING IS COMING TAKE GUDE'S PEPTO-MANGAN

Thousands of People Take It Every Spring to Regain Health and Fight Illness.

MAKES BLOOD RICH AND RED

Helps to Build Up the Entire Human System With Life-Giving Oxygen

In the Springtime, after a winter sickness or long days pent up indoors, the blood becomes clogged with waste matter. The little red corpuscles in your blood become inferior. They do not absorb enough oxygen when they pass through the lungs. The tiny cells, billions of them, miss the nourishing effect of the oxygen, and faces become pale, bodies weak.

If you feel out of sorts, cranky, tired out most of the time, it is probably because your blood is weak. If you have no other disease pulling you down, you can be pretty sure your blood is weak and you need the help that Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the well known Spring blood tonic, gives.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan makes rich red blood and puts new life into the red corpuscles. If you are anemic (a thin blooded condition) Gude's Pepto-Mangan will restore the right number of red corpuscles. You will notice a general improvement, better appetite, more restful sleep, better complexion, wide open clear eyes.

Get Gude's Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's. He has it in liquid and tablet form. It makes no difference which you take, because the tablets and the liquid form both have the same medicinal value. Get the genuine Gude's Pepto-Mangan with the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," printed on the package. Advertisement.

HARD ASSISTS IN CLEARING BUCKEYE LAKE

Famous Resort Has Become Haven For Illegal Fishing Protector Asserts.

Officers From All Parts of State Are on Duty.

Frank Hard, local deputy game protector, after spending two days at his home, returned again Thursday morning to Buckeye Lake where he has been on duty for the past three weeks.

Protector Hard states that an effort is being made to put an end to the illegal fishing at the lake. He said that protectors from all over the state are on duty.

At the present time, it is said, Buckeye Lake is a favorite haunt for fishermen who knowingly break the laws. They have congregated there in large numbers and according to the protectors, offer an organized resistance to officers.

Fish are taken in large numbers and are sold in nearby towns and cities. Many are disposed of in Columbus.

Not only are the banks of the lake a favorite haunt for the poachers of fish and game but the assertion is made that crooks in other lines of law-breaking make it their headquarters. Hidden away in a cottage they remain safe and sound all winter but with the action resolved upon by the state this condition will soon be relieved, it is thought.

So close watch is kept for officers, it is reported, that the moment a person steps off the car he is judged a game warden until he is proven otherwise.

"TURN TO THE RIGHT" THE MURPHY THEATER

The scenic beauty of "Turn to the Right" to be presented at the Murphy Theater, Wilmington, on Friday night, April 1st, surpasses anything to be transplanted from Broadway to the smaller cities for many, many years. Peach jam plays an important part in the story and the action takes place in and about a cozy New England farm house at the edge of a peach orchard. In the second act a bumper crop of the blushing fruit is seen on the trees, with a vista of rolling meadows in the back ground. Autumn and Winter have passed, between the second and third acts, and the warm Spring sunshine has clothed the trees in blossoms. The pink petals are seen to drop lazily from the branches upon a group of happy lovers beneath the trees and about dear old Mother Bascam, maker of the magic jam which eventually brings riches to the principal characters of the story.

The prices have been arranged at a pre-war scale so that every one can have a chance to see this splendid comedy. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or your money back goes with every ticket sold for this attraction, which is without question the most delightful comedy-drama ever playing the Murphy Theater.

Look for the RED LINE 'round the top

It's a Goodrich Shoe, the Brown 4-Buckle Gaiter, and it is All Rubber—no cloth top. Wear it right over your shoe, and when you come in from the field or barn, douse a bucket of water over it and it's cleaned. Then a click of the buckles and off she slips—and you go into the house clean and dry. But Wear is the big feature. It is Goodrich Rubber—and that means fifty years of experience backed by a square deal policy. 60,000 dealers sell it—ask yours for Goodrich next time.
